Frozen Meat

We were the first to identify the Buffalo meat's potential and its tremendous availability as a food resource in 1969.

Since then, India has built a solid reputation of being a reliable exporter of risk-free, nutritious, and competitively priced frozen buffalo meat to over 70 countries around the World. With 57% of total buffalo population of the world, India is considered as the home track of some of the finest breeds of buffaloes and India is amongst the largest exporters of bovine meat today. 100% of the meat exported from India is prepared strictly in compliance with Islamic requirements of genuine Halal.

Today, Allana is the World's Largest Producer and Exporter of Frozen Halal Boneless Buffalo Meat dominating the buffalo meat exports market in India.

Exports of Indian BUFFALO meat has been rapidly growing; the meat is lean, nutritious and has been tested to contain 40% less cholesterol, 55% less calories, 10% more proteins, minerals, and vitamins than beef. Indian Buffalo meat has become a cult in many countries including Egypt, Malaysia, Vietnam, Indonesia, KSA & Philippines as it is preferred over all other meats for manufacture of value added, meat based processed products like hamburgers, sausages, and a range of canned meat.

Production of deboned, de-glanded frozen Buffalo meat for export from India is a very regulated industry under the compulsory licensing of Agricultural & Processed Food Products Export Development Authority (APEDA), Ministry of Commerce (MoC), Government of India (GOI).

Our factories have complete integrated systems, starting from managing healthy livestock, to complete processing of the meat & the company has also invested in own packaging material plants to ensure quick delivery and control on food grade packaging material.

The processing of meat is undertaken in strict accordance with prescribed Codex Alimentarius standards and OIE guidelines.

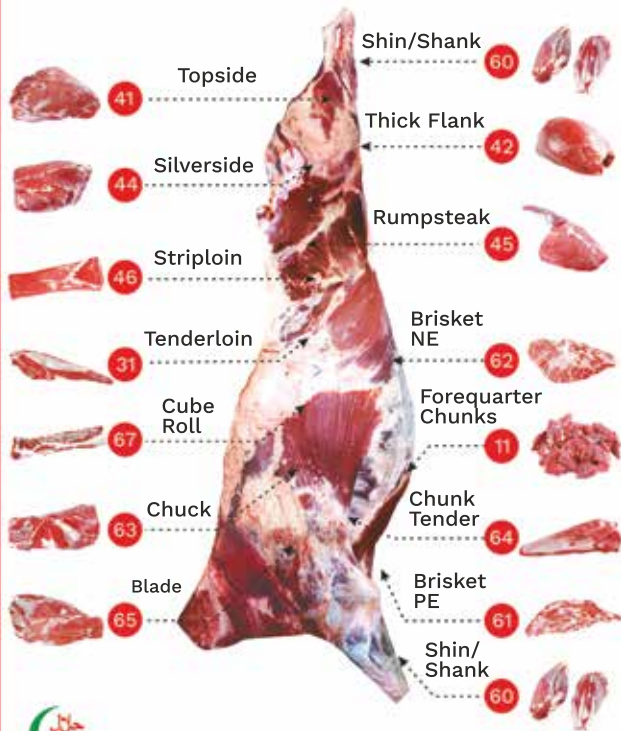

As an ecologically sensitive organization each of our facilities have waste-water effluent treatment program. The solid waste is converted into consumable fuel to ensure a sustainable environment.

Our adherence to strict international quality standards has enabled us to become India's largest exporter of meat products.

Chilled Meat

Vacuum Packed Chilled Meat (VPCM)

VPCM is a unique packaging process widely used for poultry, cheese and fresh chilled meat. Meat is packed in special plastic bags which are then vacuum-sealed and shrunk to be like a second skin.

The resulting package is air-tight and moisture-proof, protecting the food from oxidation & dehydration during storage. This type of packaging extends storage life to 90 days or more at 2° Celsius while preventing weight loss from shrinkage & trimming loss.

Restaurants that buy fresh vacuum-packed chilled meat can offer their customers meat that is both tender and juicy and save shrink & trim losses. Fresh meat can be brought for inventory, eliminating overbuying and underbuying. Meat cutting and wastage are reduced. The extra moisture in this meat acts as a good heat conductor, and so cooking times may be shorter.

We offer VPCM in a range of Buffalo FQ & HQ cuts such as:

Tenderloin, Topside, Thick Flank, Silverside, Rumpsteak, Striploin, Kashila, Shin Shank, Chuck, Chuck Tender, Blade, Cube Roll
